PRESIDENT'S DESK

As this will be my last president's page, I frankly feel like I am saying goodbye to old friends. The many letters I have received show that this page has been read each month by most of our members. There is a certain nostalgic sadness that accompanies this last message.

I am planning to turn my files over to the new president. We have many important matters pending in our organization and the new president cannot "start from scratch" every two years. I believe the practice of turning the files over to the new president should become "standard procedure" for all out-going presidents and this custom, backed by our by-laws, should be adhered to every two years.

Fortunately, our officers and board have worked closely together these past two years and the new president-elect is cognizant of all pending matters. This will certainly make for a smooth transition in the ANA.

Those on the ANA governing board should continue to keep in close touch with the Treasury Department, and the Mint and our senators and congressmen in Washington. We must continue our active and effective Washington Educational Committee. We are fortunate to have many friends in the Treasury, on the Joint Commission on the Coinage, and in Congress.

One of our best friends in Washington is the director of the Mint, Miss Eva Adams. She is a joy to work with and always lends a willing ear to our problems and interests.

We must continue to strive for more membership services. I hope our members will use these services, especially those designed to reduce robberies and to prevent the purchase of forgeries and counterfeit coins.

I have been considering for a long time the need for a Past Presidents' Club in the ANA. This club would not be a large organization, but it would be one that could be beneficial to the ANA and its members.

It could be established to help the ANA in long range planning, as well as to work in an advisory capacity. Its aim should be to keep our ANA growing and to measure its decisions with this thought in mind, "What is the best for the ANA and its future?"

Experience is a good teacher and the presidents could make themselves available for suggestions and recommendations when called upon.

The club could meet formally once a year during the ANA convention for luncheon or dinner and keep in touch by mail the balance of the year. The board could call upon the group for advice before and after their board meetings.

And now—I must say good-bye. It has been a real pleasure and privilege for me to serve you for the past two years. I have tried to do my best in all things—any mistakes I have made have been honest ones. I want to thank each of you who have worked with me for the advancement of the American Numismatic Association and for our hobby—the king of all hobbies—Numismatics.

D-Day was June 10

There have been many important events in the 76 year history of the American Numismatic Association; there will be many more in years to come, but none will equal in pomp and ceremony, in importance and anticipation, the dedication of the new home and headquarters in Colorado Springs. The first in the history of the association.

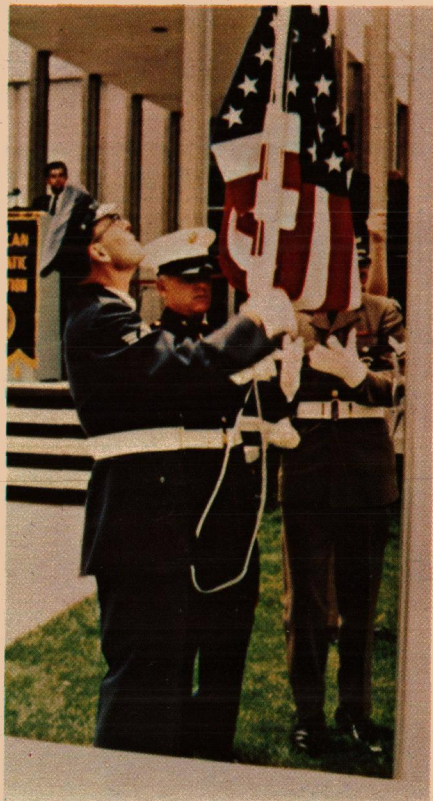

Although a few of the distinguished guests invited for the dedication could not make it, eminent and important officials were present to participate in the memorable event. From Washington came Kenneth Failor, executive director of the Joint Commission on the Coinage, representing the United States Treasury Department; Charles Miller, assistant to the superintendent, represented the nearby Denver Mint. There was Congressman Frank Evans of Colorado who made a brilliant, well-researched welcoming speech. And, from the governor's office in Denver came a former Colorado Springs man, Dwight Neal, who won the rapt attention of the audience with his remarks on early Colorado numismatic history.

There were more, many more, most of the important numismatic names in the country today were here. In all over six hundred were counted witnessing the impressive ceremonies that took place on the front steps of the new facilities. Local officials co-operated in accomodating the crowd by closing Cascade Avenue to vehicular traffic.

Cooperation was extended by the weatherman, also. Precipitation laden clouds hung ominously overhead during the entire proceedings, but the rains held off exactly twenty-four hours. The next day saw some of the heaviest downpours of the year.

With backs straight as ramrods and chests bursting with pride, the entire board of governors, with all those assembled, stood at stiff attention as a bright new American flag was rasied for the first time. The flag, a gift of Miss Eva Adams, director of the Mint, had flown just once before, over the United States Capitol in Washington. Solemnizing the flag raising ceremony was the color guard of the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD). This group was composed of one airman and one soldier representing the United States and one Canadian non-commissioned officer representing our neighbor to the North. All were in full dress uniforms and their short parade, to the accompaniment of martial music, to accept the flag and to raise it brought tears of pride to the eyes of many.

The Fort Carson Military Band, under the direction of Chief Warrant Officer Byron Smith, added dignity to the auspicious occasion. None were left uninspired.

Prelude to the ribbon cutting by President Matt Rothert, included an invocation by the Reverend Arthur W. Pierpoint, rector, Church of the Holy Spirit in Colorado Springs and the introduction of distinguished guests by Jack R. Koch, executive director, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Following Rothert to the lectern, after the association president had climaxed the ceremonies by unveiling the dedication plaque, was Charles M. Johnson, the member of the board of governors who played the most prominent role in the development of the home and headquarters. Johnson chaired the many committees that brought the facilities from dream stage to reality.

Johnson recognized the various committee and association members who had worked so hard and diligently to realize this goal. He was presented the number one dedication medal in silver mounted in a specially designed holder as a token of appreciation from fellow board members.

Following Johnson's remarks, Matt Rothert cut the ribbon officially opening the headquarters to the membership and the general public. A pair of gold scissors were used and then presented to the association president as a souvenir of the event.

As the ribbon was being cut, spectators surged forward, many more eager to purchase the limited amount of silver dedication medals than to see the interior of the new building. Within a few minutes the silver medals were completely sold out, leaving only bronze specimens for the late comers. An additional order for silver medals has been placed but only those ordered on June 10, dedication day, will be serially numbered.

Once inside the building visitors found the ceremonies far from over. Donald Heath, Grosse Point, Michigan, the son of Dr. George Heath, founder of the ANA, formally presented the small printing press on which the first six volumes of The Numismatist were printed, 1888-1893. The press is still operable and miniature reprints of the first page of the first edition were printed as souvenirs of the dedication. Heath reminisced about his father, coin collecting in general and the press in particular. It will now remain on display in the museum.

Almost every important name in numismatics today can be found in this crowd witnessing the dedication.

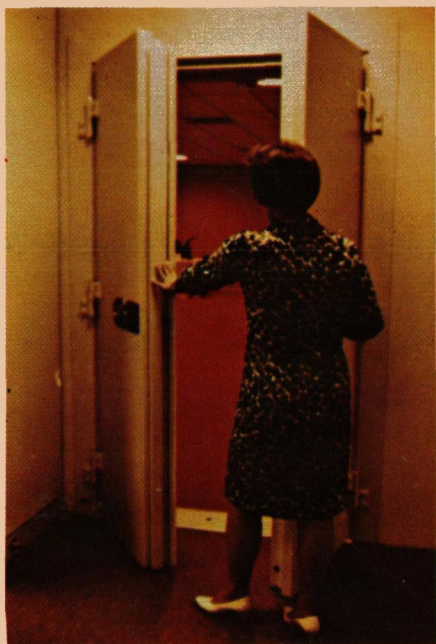

Immediately to the right of the new building and serving as an imposing backdrop can be seen famous Pikes Peak. The gold "in them thar hills" can now be found at the foot of the mountains, in the ANA museum.

Greeting visitors when they enter the new building is a bubbling fountain in the rotunda area, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Abernethy, Jr. and family. It did not take visitors long to start throwing coins in the fountain.

Other presentations followed. George Grunthal, curator of foreign coins, American Numismatic Society and official representative of that group at dedication made a library donation. Ralph Smith, representing the Greeley (Colo.) Coin Club presented their award winning scrapbook to the association and Dan Brown, representing the Professional Numismatists Guild (PNG), presented a check that topped their drive to donate $50,000 to the building fund. Another donation check was presented by Virginia Culver, a member of the board.

During the dedication remarks, Kenneth Failor presented two books on behalf of the Treasury Department, one the Coinage Act of 1965; the other, the Coin Shortage-Committee on Government Operations. Both big volumes, both handsomely bound in blue leather.

Recognized and included among the visitors were former ANA presidents, Admiral O. H. Dodson and C. C. Shroyer. Much of the preliminary work was accomplished under their administrations. Carlisle Guy, the architect who designed the facilities, was also recognized. He was especially proud of the dedication medal he obtained, it was the first time that any of the landmarks he has designed was ever commemorated in medallic art form.

Two students from nearby Colorado College, on whose campus the headquarters is situated, have already found the library to be most helpful in their studies.

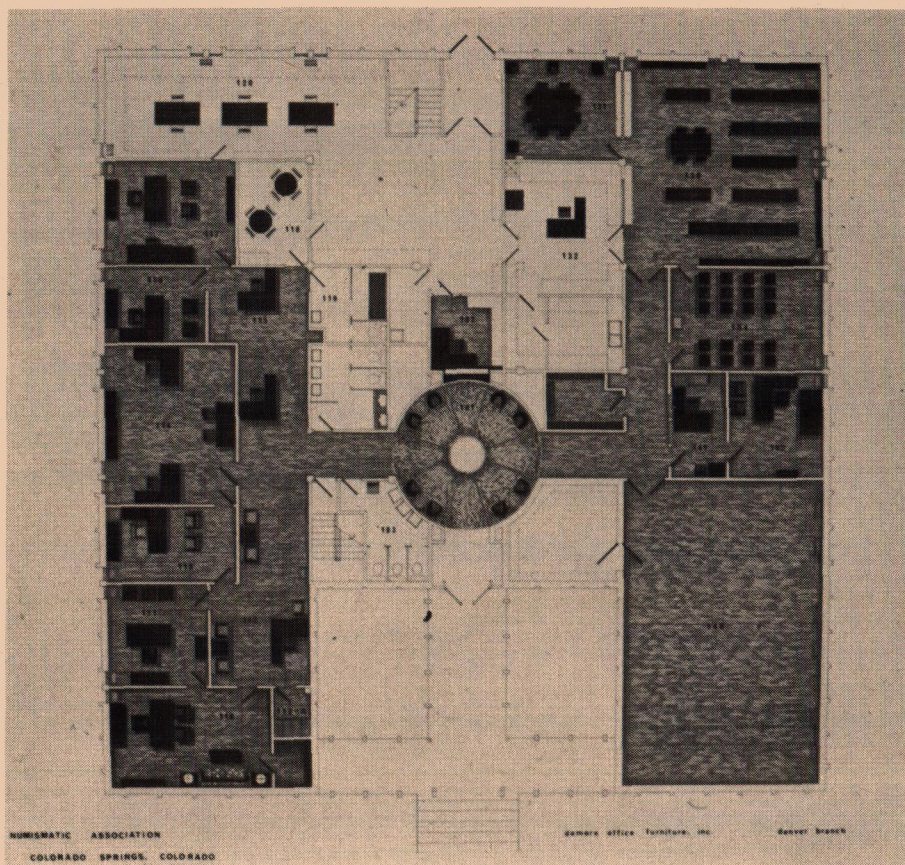

This is the editorial work area. Spacious and well lighted, these quarters are utilized in the planning and layout of The Numismatist and the Club Bulletin.

Thoughtfully designed, the library and museum are separated from this administrative wing thus minimizing the distracting influence of a steady flow of visitors. Secretaries are stationed outside the offices to further direct traffic.

THE NUMISMATIST

The floor plans pay tribute to the careful planning on the part of not only the committees assigned this task but to the architect, Carlisle Guy, as well. Designed for future expansion, additions may go up, down or out, with a minimum expense.

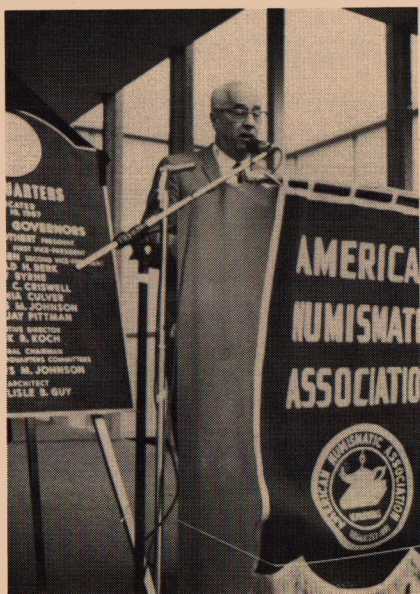

Nothing was left undone in the executive director's programming. Uniforms were as prevalent as civilian suits. Even the ushers wore uniforms. Executing these duties was the Panther Patrol, Troop 19, Boy Scouts of America.

The dedication was just one part of a three-day numismatic holiday in Colorado Springs. Ceremonies coincided with the 9th annual convention of the Southern Colorado Numismatic Society held at the nearby Antlers Plaza Hotel. Incidentally, the Antlers, too, is housed in a brand spanking new building not more than three months opened and designed by Carlisle Guy.

There will be other occasions for pomp and ceremony in the years ahead for the ANA, but none will ever equal the dedication on June 10. For those of you unable and unfortunate enough not to have been present, The Numismatist, for the first time, will repro-

Charles M. Johnson, addresses the Dedication Day audience and recognized those who made this day possible. The complete text of his talk is published in the Progress Report appearing in this issue.

Congressman Frank Evans, from Colorado's third district, jokingly asked the association to change the name called coin collectors since it was difficult for him to pronounce numismatists.

Kenneth Failor, executive director of the Joint Commission on the Coinage, came from Washington in Miss Adams' place. He expressed the Treasury Department's appreciation of the cooperation and help from ANA members and officials during the recent coin crisis.

A Word About the Convention!

Decisions! Decisions! Decisions!

Jim Eckhart, a local attorney and member of our of our advisory board tells me that there are about 200,000,000 people in the United States and just about half of them (by actual count) want to visit Miami. I'll take all bets ... not 5% of them will ever get here ... not because they can't come but simply because they find it too difficult to make up their minds.

The ANA convention this month makes it easy for you to make up your mind. Come on down and make a real vacation of it. FEATURE: No charge for extra kids in the room under twelve. Miami is THE vacation spot on the whole Atlantic coast and the weather is nicer here than it is in the sweltering asphalt jungles of Philadelphia, Chicago or you name it.

The program is the finest ever presented to a group of numismatists anywhere in the world. The security is so tight that if you smile at one of our pretty girls, your wife will hear about it thirty seconds later. The bourse is absolutely tops in international dealers. These are the legendary characters whose names are known to all of us in the books we read, the catalogues we get and the prices we swear at. This is the time to meet them and get to know them. Find out that the great names of this world are down to earth people just like you and me. The only difference is that they know more about their subjects than we do ... so what better than to have conversations with them. You will be the winner in the long run. We have a guy down here who met Mr. Seaby once and has never stopped talking about it. Matter of fact, so much rubbed off that he thinks he is a numismatist. Could be!

This is my last effort on behalf of the 1967 ANA Convention in Miami. I can hang up my typewriter and take it easy from now on while the rest of the committee members are up to their shirtsleeves in operational problems. Believe it or not ... every one of them will be glad when the Convention is over. Ask anyone who has worked on one before. But the rewards are great in a realization of a job well-done.

The only thing lacking is YOU ... so come on down to the Magic City of Miami for the convention and don't worry about the decisions, decisions, decisions.—Landon G. Haynes.

HOW - WHEN - WHERE

Is there a numismatist who is not so proud of his hobby that he does not have supplementary embellishments in his home or his office sustaining his interests in coin collecting?

A collector visiting the National Gallery of Art will find featured the Samuel H. Kress Collection of Renaissance Bronzes. These bronzes constitute one of the most important collections of statuettes, medals, plaques and plaquettes in existence covering the Renaissance period. Perhaps you would like a copy for decorating your home or office?

The original bronzes were collected over a period of many years, beginning in the 1870s by the celebrated French collector, Gustave Dreyfuss (1837-1914). The Dreyfuss collection was preserved virtually intact until acquired by the Samuel H. Kress Foundation, which has given it to the National Gallery.

The collection consists of approximately 1300 objects: over 100 statuettes and reliefs, more than 700 medals and coins, and over 450 plaquettes. These date from the 15th to the 18th centuries. The majority are unique, made in Italy, the principal bronze working center of the Renaissance. Other countries represented are France, Germany and the Netherlands.

Since many of the pieces are unique and since many collectors will never venture to Washington, the National Gallery of Art makes available through their publications fund a number of reproductions of these sculptures, medals and plaquettes. These are metal cast reproductions, the surfaces have been finished to resemble the originals. Each reproduction is boxed for mailing, with a description and identification of the work of art.

A few examples are: the obverse of the medal of Domenico Novello Matesta by Pisanello, diameter 3-5/16", mounted on wood, cost $4; or the reverse of the same medal, a scene with Crucifix, also $4.

Collectors can obtain a list of these offerings by writing for list number 7, sculpture reproductions, and for list 7A - jewelry, from the Publications Fund, National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.

Youth Riding On A Bull, a pseudo-Melioli objet d'art, has been reproduced from the unique original by the National Gallery and offered to collectors. Copies are made uniface for collector protection.

History of the Coinage of British Honduras

PART II

by Dr. Alan K. Craig

with the extensive cooperation of: Dave Hess, ANA 42449, and Ray Byrne, LM 297

Fig. 4. The John Lex "Quartee" token (2X).

Preface to PART II: Readers are reminded that background information of a general nature together with a description of early colonial numismatic developments in British Honduras has been presented in the previous issue of The Numismatist.

Private Coinage and Scrip

A rare and unusual example of private coinage produced for circulation in British Honduras is illustrated in fig. 4. This is the 1/4 rial bronze "quartee" token issued by John Jex & Co., 1871. Inspiration for the design obviously comes from the United States Indian head cent of the same period and in all probability the tokens were made in this country (1). John Jex was one of the most active merchants in Belize at this time and relatively progressive in his business methods. The general appearance of this token suggests that it was intended to facilitate trade rather than to function as a store card (2). Workmanship is comparatively

(1) Although no direct evidence is presently available, it is quite likely that these tokens were made in New Orleans as this was the principal port of entry for boats engaged in trade between British Honduras and the United States.

(2) This interpretation is substantiated by the prominence given to the denomination in the design and lack of a need for advertising in a small town like Belize where mercantile firms were well known to their customers.

Fig. 5. The Corozal Token

good although double punching of the letter "B" in Belize is noticeable. While fairly common in its time, the specimen illustrated from the collection of Mr. Byrne is the third, and by far the best, that the writer is aware of. The other two Jex tokens were excavated in badly corroded, uncollectable condition from vacant lots inside the city limits of Belize; their discovery in 1965 was sufficiently noteworthy to merit considerable comment in the local newspaper as something previously unknown.

Figure 5 illustrates an even rarer example of private coinage in the form of a heavy copper token struck for use in the northern town of Corozal. Virtually nothing can be added to the information apparent in this illustration. The initials "E. P." and "A. A. V." do not correspond to any well-known commercial firm presently in business but the name "COROZAL" is absolutely diagnostic and places the origin in northern British Honduras. Since this town was founded in the 1870s by Mexican refugees fleeing from the War of the Castes, dating would necessarily fall between 1875 and the coinage reform ordinance of 1894. Corozal itself was never a very large town and there is a remote possibility this token was issued by one of the nearby sugar plantations as a commissary chit although lack of any denomination suggests it was intended simply for advertising.

The two tokens illustrated are the only varieties known to the author which can be definitely attributed to British Honduras. However, collectors who are interested in this series would do well to search their cabinets for token material that may have been issued by any of the following merchants who were especially active during the latter half of the 19th century: C. Melhado & Co.; Young, Toledo & Co.; British Honduras Co., Ltd.; Wm. Guild & Co.; James Harley; Johnson & Co.; B. Cramer; Phillips & Co., and A. H. Brinton. Nothing has been seen of the cardboard tokens mentioned in the British Honduras Gazette - 1863 (p. 426) which claims they were issued by Chinese merchants in Belize, but these tokens were said to be plentiful in the 1870s.

Scrip currency, official or otherwise, can be traced back as far as 1863 when the government was already well acquainted with the practice of issuing 30 day interest-bearing Treasury bills. Gazette advertisements for 1863 and 1870 state that tenders for same were submitted with "...payment to be in British Gold and Silver coin, American Eagles and dollars, or in South American doubloons..."

At some date between 1870 and 1894 Colonial Government currency was issued which was of two kinds—provisional and permanent. Table no. 1 shows the slow increase of permanent paper currency in average monthly circulation over a period of time when the total issued increased from a total of $103,820 (1894) to $247,332 (1911).

There is a considerable gap in our knowledge of currency statistics until suddenly, in the year 1911 when further legislation affecting coinage was enacted, we discover that there is now a Note Account published by the Commissioner of Currency. He states (3) that of $247,545 traceable in notes of all kinds the amount "in chest" ($111,394) is nearly equal to the amount in circulation—the notes in circulation being 100% gold backed—and for the first time, we have evidence that exactly $213.00 of provisional bank notes are still outstanding.

These provisional bank notes were never redeemed and they remain, in my opinion, among the most enigmatic, fascinating, and rarest of all paper currency issued in Central America. It is not likely that even a single specimen survives today as the total number outstanding was probably never more than a few dozen pieces, depending upon the denominations issued. Nowhere do we find even the briefest description of these provisional notes and it is merely an assumption that they were printed locally in scrip form. If an example can be eventually located, authentication of the note would be a simple matter since names of the appropriate government officials of that period are known.

Modern Issues

A chronic shortage of minor coins plagued British Honduras during most of the 19th century. Queen Victoria's proclamation of September 14, 1838, made Spanish, Mexican, and Colombian coins legal tender in the settlement and promulgated their sterling value (4). This was the first formal regulation regarding local currency according to Woods who wrote that "... neither of this, nor of the proclamation of the 19th August, 1853, bearing on the same question, is there a single copy extant in the colony." (Italics mine) (5).

From the same source we learn that large numbers of English copper coins were imported about 1850 and not having been mentioned in the 1838 proclamation, the settlers dealt with them by local legislation—Act 18, Vict. Cap. 16 "Altering and Defining the Currency of the Settlement." This act provided that all accounts in the future should be kept in dollars and "rials" (sic), the dollar being computed at the rate of 4 shillings of sterling, and rials at 1/8 that sum. Rials were found to be an inconvenient unit and Act 27, Vict. Cap. 20 provided for the substitution of cents for rials with 100 cents to the dollar, thus providing the basis for the formal introduction of the decimal system to British Honduras.

Until shortly before the 1880s almost any coin passed current including "... perforated, defaced and cut money, and even tokens issued by the merchants for want of a sufficiently small coin to express a 'quartee' (3 cents), of which some issued by Mr. John Jex are still extant." (6) In October, 1876, the principal merchants of Belize held a meeting and by mutual consent agreed not to accept any badly damaged, defaced, worn or perforated coins—but

(5) See page 18 of Sir John A. Burdon's Archives of British Honduras, Vol. III, London, Sifton, Praed & Co., 1931, wherein he mentions a similar entry for March, 1855, described as an "Act proposed for defining the currency and for formal adoption of dollars and rials. Historical account of the currency question." In view of the present difficulties in reconstructing these events, it seems a great pity that this latter document was destroyed in the hurricane of 1931!

(6) Data from Woods' article "The Currency", op. cit.

Woods mentions that in 1894, while such coins had largely disappeared from Belize, "holey" coin were still being accepted in Corozal and the northern districts.

In May, 1879, the merchants of Belize held another meeting at which they agreed to accept fractional foreign coinage at full value but pesos of Guatemala, Chile and Peru were discounted to 87-1/2 cents each. Shortly thereafter the complete anarchy of the situation was deliberately demonstrated by Mr. C. T. Hunter who was found liable by the Petty Debts and Damages Court and required to pay Mr. J. Gentle the sum of L 5. He proceeded to pay this sum in the following manner:

Table No. II

No.	Item	Rate	Sum
2	Mexican dollars	4-/0d	0 8 0
2	Spanish dollars	4 0	0 8 0
2	Guatemalan dollars	3 6	0 7 0

			Total: L 5,0,0

Payment of L 5 by C. T. Hunter to J. Gentle, British Honduras, ca. 1894.

Evidently the canny Mr. Hunter was unaware of another proclamation made by the Queen in 1871 stating that the only gold coins legally acceptable in payment for public debt were those of the Australian mint at Sydney (7).

Before coinage was finally stabilized by striking a standard set of coins specifically for British Honduras, the situation can best be described as chaotic. Another proclamation by the Queen in September 15, 1887, clearly indicated that it was the Guatemalan "dollar" (peso) and not the United States dollar that was the basis for the new British Honduras cents that were first struck two years earlier. Part of this proclamation consists of a long list of coins equivalent to the Guatemalan peso. For example, it shows the Colombian peso discounted to 72 United States cents but worth 100 British Honduras cents. The consequences of this proclamation finally dawned upon the merchants of Belize. They realized that in all likelihood they would begin to receive mass shipments of less desirable foreign coinage from buyers in New Orleans of Belizean produce (8). However, by 1889 all these miscellaneous coins were demonetized, and the U. S. dollar was officially adopted as the standard coin when Ordinance No. 31 was finally adopted in 1894.

Official coinage for British Honduras actually begins with the large copper one cent coins struck in 1885. They were of standard design and very similar to the equivalent coins of Straits Settlements, Cyprus, and Mauritius. From descriptions in auction catalogs and sales records, it is evident that small numbers of first-strike presentation specimens were prepared for the years 1885, 1888, and 1889 as these coins are occasionally referred to as "proof-like." For reasons not entirely clear, the 1894 date is seldom encountered in any condition and should be considered the scarcest of the Victorian coppers.

(7) Why Sydney mint sovereigns should have been chosen is something of a mystery.

(8) Charles Swett in his little-known pamphlet entitled "A Trip to British Honduras," (1868, New Orleans, Price Current Printers) makes it quite clear that in the 1860s all U. S. coins passed freely in British Honduras with the exception of dimes and half-dimes. He also states that English shillings were at par with U. S. quarters in Belize and recommended to prospective immigrants from Louisiana that they buy up these shillings in New Orleans at the discounted price of 22¢ each in anticipation of their move to southern British Honduras during the carpetbagger era.

When we casually inspect the mintage figures for British Honduras coins they often appear completely capricious and unrelated to any logical pattern. This however is not the case and upon more careful analysis we find that the quantities struck indeed followed a pattern when arranged as shown in Table III.

Table No. III

No. of pieces	Denomination	Value
94,500	50¢	$ 47,250
135,000	25¢	33,750
126,000	10¢	12,600
128,000	5¢	6,400
Total: 483,500	Total value:	$100,000

Total value of British Honduras silver coinage in circulation in the year 1900.

In other words, the numbers of coins struck were arbitrarily arranged so that the total value of the cumulative strikings would eventually reach a predetermined figure - in this case, $100,000. The Annual Colonial Report (No. 339) for British Honduras for 1900 states this relationship very clearly and on page 9 goes on to say "... there is also a bronze cent piece, the amount in circulation being 150,000 pieces." Here we have a serious discrepancy between the contemporary figures of the Annual Report and the recent published mintage figures that show a total of 272,000 (9) total cents struck before 1900. In my opinion, the annual report total of 150,000 is more likely correct and the "missing" 122,000 pieces partially explains the relative scarcity of these coins. With one such error documented for large cents, it seems likely that more may exist that would help explain the obvious scarcity of other large cents.

For example, the 1909 large cent of Edward VII (see Fig. 1, Part I) has received an unwarranted amount of publicity as an outstanding Central American rarity. Mintage figures suggest that 25,000 were struck - and the same figures are given for the 1913 large cent of George V. Some idea of the true relative scarcity of these coins can be gained by the following comparison: the writer has seen 11 examples of the 1909 cent, 2 of the 1912-H cent, and 1 of the 1913 cent. All of these coins were taken from circulation in recent years in a generally corroded and uncollectable condition. However, if this experience is typical, it would suggest that the 1909 large cent does not deserve the reputation it has earned and that it is the latter two dates that merit the greatest attention as is correctly suggested by Wallace's catalog ratings.

In 1914 a design change appeared in the bronze cents with the planchet substantially reduced as shown in the comparative examples illustrated at actual scale in figure 6. Although there are no important varieties in the medium cent series, it is interesting to note that there are subtle differences in the metallurgical properties of the bronze used at various times so that each date assumes a characteristic pattern of wear that is instantly recognizable to anyone who has handled large numbers of these coins. The war-time mixture for the year 1943 was particularly soft, and noticeable deficient in tin and zinc.

Fig. 6 Comparison of British Honduras "large" cent and "medium" cent.

(9) See: World Coins, April, 1964, p. 209; the figure 272,000 is arrived at as follows: 1885-75,000; 1888-100,000, 1889-50,000, and 1894-50,000.

Remaining bronze cent issues may be summarily disposed of with a minimum of comment. It is not precisely known to this writer why the "small" cent design first introduced in 1954 was discontinued after a single year. Bank tellers have been instructed since 1964 to withdraw all large, medium, and small (round) cents from circulation so that it is only a matter of time before they disappear entirely. Tellers state that the earlier cents do not stack well when combined with the current scalloped cent design but this explanation seems oversimplified. Since the scalloped design was first struck in 1956, more than 2,000,000 pieces have been produced and poor workmanship in planchets and striking has markedly increased (10).

The silver coinage of British Honduras is a distinctive series, characterized by an almost complete absence of choice uncirculated specimens in the cabinets of advanced collectors. This difficulty in obtaining strictly uncirculated specimens is in part due to the special conditions outlined in Part I of this monograph. But in addition, many of the silver quarters and half-dollars seem to have been struck from cupped dies in such a way that the monarch's portrait was slightly concave. While this protects the image admirably, it has the inevitable effect of making the reverse convex - with the result that denomination, date, and legend wear rapidly. Figure 7 illustrates the standard portrait obverse used on the British Honduras silver issues; it is remarkable only from the standpoint that the specimen used is an example of the heavily cupped 1897 half dollar and is in exceptionally well preserved condition.

Several experiments in base metals were tried in the minor series after 1900. Beginning in 1907, small numbers of nickel five cent pieces were struck at very infrequent intervals. After a one-year design for 1939, changes in metallic composition were introduced during World War II, but strangely enough, these economies did not extend to the dimes which continued to be struck in silver until 1946.

All continuity in British Honduras coinage was broken in 1946 by the sudden devaluation of the B. H. dollar as a result of the general post-war economic depression. The demise of the old series struck in respectable silver was presaged in 1952 by the appearance of a cupro-nickel quarter of George VI (11). Whatever beauty and romance that may have been found in the older designs has now been supplanted by the cold, pedestrian, and hard-wearing copper nickel coinage of Elizabeth II. While these new issues undoubtedly have considerable utilitarian value and advantages over their predecessors, one cannot help feel that much of what was quaint or attractive in the series has been destroyed - and we are now much the poorer for the passing of this era.

Speculation: Past and Present

Speculation in one form or another has been a characteristic of British Honduras since the earliest days of the risky logwood era. The temporary nature of settlements along the coast was largely due to the constant threat of destruction by Spanish military expeditions. Belize and surrounding cropfields were burned on several occasions and it was not until after the battle of St. George's Cay (1798) that a permanent settlement was established. Rudimentary self-government appeared during the early part of the nineteenth century when British influence throughout the Bay of Honduras and the Mosquito Coast Indians was at an all time high (12). Three successive "Kings of Mosquitia" were crowned in the cathedral at Belize and there were various illfounded schemes to create private empires such as the Poyais (13) on the northern coast of Spanish Honduras.

It is at this time (ca. 1818) Pridmore (14) suggests Spanish colonial 8 reales coins were counterstamped with a crowned "GR" for special use in British Honduras. Unfortunately, his lengthy, but completely unsubstantiated, explanation involving tribes of Indians and cutlass trademarks was uncritically accepted in this country by the numismatic fraternity. If we must search for some legitimate motive to explain the crowned "GR" device (Pridmore's Type III), then it is much more logical to assume that it was done on occasion by the British political officers assigned as advisors to the Kingdom of Mosquitia whose Waika Indians enjoyed at that time the official status of a Protectorate of Great Britain. On the other hand, British Honduras remained an unofficial "settlement" until 1864, long after the apparent time the counterstamping was accomplished for which absolutely no mention can be found in any surviving documents. It is necessary to reemphasize the fact that there were no Indian tribes whatsoever living in British Honduras during the colonial period. This coastline was the only part of Central America that was found to be virtually uninhabited at the time of discovery; it was not until the 1920s that Kekchi Indians moved into southern British Honduras from neighboring Guatemala. Consequently, it is impossible that these coins were specially processed for any dealings with Indians in British Honduras. That a crowned "GR" may have been copied from a cutlass trade mark compounds the speculation and is equally unsubstantiated. The only contemporary British cutlass trade mark with which the writer has first-hand knowledge is in the unmistakable outline of an alligator.

In other words, if these are official counterstamps and not mere forgeries designed to enhance the numismatic value of otherwise unimportant coins, they are more logically attributable to the Mosquito Coast than to British Honduras.

Modern speculation has taken a much different bent. The collecting of foreign coins as a hobby gained momentum in the United States throughout the 1950s on a scale totally unrecedented. In 1957 the situation in Belize was such that it was still possible to obtain quantities of the early large coppers in change and only a little patience was needed to acquire a complete British Honduras date and type set. By 1960, the hoarding of bag-lot quantities of British Honduras coins by U. S. speculators was an established practice. Transportation from Miami or New Orleans was less than $100, and there were no restrictions on the exportation of coin from the country. Inroads by speculators were such that an acute coin shortage resulted. Tens of thousands of coins accumulated in Miami, Tampa and New Orleans while mint officials in England pondered the reasons for such a spectacular and sudden attrition rate. Production increased substantially in the 1960s but to no lasting benefit. Coins were shipped to Belize in large linen bags wired and fastened with lead seals - five bags to a shipment - packed in special tin-covered footlockers that from their appearance must have seen service in this way since the days of Victoria. In some cases, bags of un-circulated coin were passed out over bank counters at such a rate that the entire striking of a given denomination was dissipated within a few months (15).

In 1964 British Honduras was scheduled to receive independence and rumors swept through New Orleans that a new set of coinage would commemorate this event. The issuing agency was to be the "Republic of Mayaland Bank." It would be unkind to the original and legitimate wildcat banks to recommend this one for membership in the same category, although some stock was apparently sold to shrewd, far-sighted Texas investors.

Dies were said to have been prepared by a private firm in New Orleans for the curious silver four-dollar pieces. These latter fantasies allegedly were to be struck in 36 separate reverse die varieties thus allowing the fortunate investor to purchase (at a premium to be sure) a vacuum-sealed, "proof" coin resplendent with his birthdate struck in Mayan glyphic katuns - using the short count (16)!

Independence was delayed for complex reasons and the same might be said of the Mayaland coins.

In summation, allow me to point out in all sincerity that the coinage of British Honduras has a true charm and fascination that lies in the utter lack of sophistication, planning, or rationale that has characterized it from the very beginning. So far the world has been spared the appearance of a crassly conceived, mass-produced, mulctmotivated set of coin-jewellery associated with the hallowed traditions of that little country. And it is my fervent hope that this will always remain to be the case. If there is to be another chapter in the coinage of British Honduras, let us pray that it will be a dignified one.

(15) Numbers of such bags are now in the United States and it would be difficult to imagine how many times they have changed hands. Ownership of such quantities of British Honduras coins can only be classified as speculation of the highest order since the number of serious collectors is exceedingly small by comparison.

(16) Another version of this story claimed the Mayan glyphs contained a secret message - after considerable research using the Goodman-Martinez-Thompson system, the writer was able to decipher it as follows: C-A-V-E-A-T E-M-P-T-O-R.

Leading Consumer—The United States was the world's largest consumer of nickel in 1966, using an estimated 410 million pounds. Total free world consumption during the year was estimated at 830 million pounds.

Durable Coins—The average life of a coin struck of nickel is estimated to be 50 years.

A New Discovery!

A Panama Pacific Gold Medal

by Alexis O. Fernandez, M.D., ANA 29598

IT IS, indeed, not often that a numismatist is fortunate to find a very rare, or perhaps unique, item to add to his collection. It is, in my estimation, unusual that an almost complete lack of information is available on a medal of such recent vintage and related to a numismatic event as important and popular as the Panama Pacific International Exposition of 1915.

It was my good fortune to come across a Cuban exile who had recently left his homeland. He had been a jeweler in Havana and, especially during his last months in Cuba, had come across quite a few gold coins whose owners wanted melted and sold as gold. This he did quite often but when presented with the medal referred to here, he could not bring himself to destroy such a beautiful piece. Instead, he kept it and smuggled it out of the country. Perhaps, and being somewhat facetious, one might say that at least one good thing has arisen from Fidel Castro's revolution in Cuba!

Since a photograph of the medal is available, I will not go into a detailed description. It is gold but I do not know the fineness. The medal measures 48mm in diameter and is in extremely high relief, being 4.5mm thick at its center, where the eagle's breast is the medal's boldest point. Its weight is 41.5 grams.

What seems to make this medal unique is the inscription on the reverse:

"MAJOR GENERAL
MARIO G. MENOCAL
PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF CUBA"

As soon as I obtained the medal, I tried to find out about its history, who made the presentation and why, as well as other points of interest such as mintage, whether the medal could be purchased during the exposition, or if it was only a presentation piece. To date, all my efforts have proved fruitless.

Either directly or indirectly, I have contacted those who would be in a position to know about this piece. Among these, I have written or showed the piece to a very prominent west coast dealer, The Pacific Coast Numismatic Society, The Bancroft Library (where the archives of the exposition are kept) and several others. Since the medal was apparently made by Shreve & Company, San Francisco jewelers, they were contacted in at least two occasions but they have no records going that far back. Nobody has come up with an answer to any of the many questions which have arisen! I even wrote to a son of President Menocal who now lives in the United States. He answered, "I remember that in the year 1915 there was an exposition in San Francisco, California, and if I had the personal papers which belonged to my father and which I kept for so many years, I might possibly have been able to give you details about the same. I believe that the Cuban delegation sent to that exposition by the government was headed by General Enrique Lynaz del Castillo." In short, no really definite information regarding this beautiful gold piece has been uncovered.

I do hope that someone who reads this article will be able to shed some light on the origin of this medal. Perhaps important questions such as the number of pieces minted, the designer, their purpose and if other important persons received them may be answered.

Colorado Springs Progress

In last month's progress report, Charles M. Johnson, chairman of the fund raising and building and planning committees, wrote "finis" to his projects and to his column. This month, using my editorial prerogative, I am publishing Mr. Johnson's talk given at the dedication of the new home and headquarters. This address should be shared with all the membership and not kept as an exclusive for those 600 or more members and guests present at the dedication.

The gift that Mr. Johnson refers to in his talk was the number one dedication medal in silver presented to him by Matt H. Rothert in a specially designed presentation frame.—ECR.

A Story of Teamwork

I want to acknowledge and thank our president, Matt Rothert, and all of you for this beautiful gift which you have presented to me. I am very proud of what it represents and of my part in this big project. I shall always remember the things said here today and cherish this gift and memento of this occasion.

Teamwork

My part in this program is to thank the big team whose combined effort, time, talents and contributions have made possible this beautiful and functional, new, national home and headquarters for our association. We are extremely proud of this achievement and the team and teamwork which has made it possible. As head of this team, it has been my privilege to direct most of its activities. The members of the committees making up the team are all listed in your program, and I want to tell you the story of the team.

The Problem

It all started about five years ago during the administration of Tim Shroyer. At that time I was given the assignment of forming a committee to investigate and determine what, if anything, could be done about realizing our association's 70 year dream of obtaining its own home and headquarters. The big question was how could this be done?

How could we organize and enlist the support of our 25,000 members and affiliated clubs which were widely scattered over our country in every city, hamlet and crossroads community; so we could raise the necessary money; agree upon and select a suitable site and plan and build our association's headquarters. It was a formidable challenge and undertaking with many obstacles.

Plans and Program

After considerable work and correspondence the committee pooled their ideas to produce a written plan and program outlining the steps necessary to reach our goal. These steps were taken and today our dreams and goals are a reality thanks to the ground-work done by this committee.

Fund Raising

The working plans and program of the committee were adopted by your association's board of governors during the P. K. Anderson Administration. Then a steering committee was named to place it in operation. From 1963 to 1965 this committee launched and vigorously pursued a fund raising drive which produced about half the necessary funds for the new building.

The committee also served as a site selection committee and did a tremendous job of obtaining offers of building sites from 16 different cities. They investigated and checked out these sites and made recommendations to our board for the final decision. We are very proud that so many cities liked our association, courted us and offered us free, valuable and choice sites.

We are especially happy that Colorado Springs was chosen and supplied us with the beautiful site which you see here today. We all join in thanking Colorado College and the City of Colorado Springs for making it available to us.

Second Fund Raising

In 1965 after his election, President Rothert named two committees to carry on this project. First, there was the building fund raising committee, which carried forward and has now completed the job of getting together over $250,000 to pay in full for this new facility and another $40,000 for its furnishings. This leaves our new headquarters debt free, and it has not been necessary to touch one cent of our operating funds. I want to thank the members of this committee for this accomplishment. I especially want to cite the fine job done by Al Overton and Abe Kosoff who were members of this committee and conducted our first two donation auctions—a job which is now in the hands of Jim Kelly for our third donation auction.

Plans and Building

The plans and building committee worked with our architect, providing him with the necessary instructions and coordinated the needs and desires of our organization in planning the new building. Bill Henderson, a former mayor of Colorado Springs and bank president, who is now treasurer of our association; along with Grover Criswell, a member of our board.

Furnishings

The job of selecting the furnishings for the new building was done by our furnishing's committee listed in your program, under the chairmanship of S. W. Freeman, who gave us the benefit of a lifetime of experience in the office furnishing business. Credit should also be given at this time to the extensive help of the elected officials and staffs of our association who have served under three administrations during the past five years. Without their assistance this facility would never have been possible.

Architect

We have all been very happy with the excellent job done by our capable architect, Carlisle Guy, in designing, interpreting the needs, supervising the building construction and for countless other services to our association. For all of us who have worked with him, we have nothing but praise, for he has gone far beyond the normal requirements of his service to provide us with a well-designed and functional building which has met our fondest hopes.

Contributors

Last and most important of all are the members of the big team of benefactors, patrons, 250-Clubs and the other 3,800 contributors, from all over the country, whose financial help ranging from a few dollars to many thousands, has provided the essential funds to pay for our facility and its furnishings. The honor roll bearing their names has been recorded in the columns of our official publication, The Numismatist. It will also be permanently enrolled and commemorated by an appropriate plaque placed in the new building. We salute them for their faith, foresight and generosity, and gratefully acknowledge their indispensable part of our team.

This, ladies and gentlemen, is the team and teamwork that has produced this beautiful headquarters building. Our team has won its goal! But, let us not stop with this goal, for the building is not an end in itself. Let us now face the most challenging, the most exciting, and, perhaps, the most difficult task of all—of using this new facility to build a new and golden era for our association and for the great humanistic discipline which it represents. The discipline is the collecting and studying the money of mankind for the past 2,700 years. It is a scholarly discipline which you and I enjoy as a leisure time activity and hobby. Truly, there is no more significant activity, than the study—and I want to emphasize the “STUDY” of money, mankind's universal medium of exchange.

We learn many important lessons from our numismatic studies; about money, monetary history, monetary experimentation, monetary mistakes, debasement and devaluation, inflation and deflation; and above all about the necessity of preserving a sound medium of exchange. These lessons which we learn as we collect and study money, stand us all in good stead in doing our part to help manage and preserve a sound money and monetary system in our country and the world, upon which depends all human progress, culture and the well-being of mankind.

With these thoughts in mind our team is happy to join in delivering and dedicating this new headquarters to your service, and to the service of numismatics. We have done our best in producing it; and when the doors are opened for your inspection we hope you will like it!

Thank you. —Charles M. Johnson.

American Expatriate Quoted on Medal

A modernistically designed medal by S. W. Hayter and offered through the French Mint in Paris, portrays the young artist Gaudier Brzeska who died when he was 24 in 1915. The motif for the reverse was inspired by a Gaudier design for the sculpture, "Bird Swallowing a Fish." Above the design, in English, is the quotation THE MOST PROMISING, from a work of Ezra Pound, expatriate U. S. poet, who from 1946 to 1958 was confined in St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington having been ruled mentally unfit to answer an indictment for treason growing out of broadcasts he gave over the Italian radio during World War II, an American Lord Haw-Haw.

The medal is 68 mm in size and issued in bronze and silver.

FEATURING FAKES

VIRGIL HANCOCK, ANA 43616

c 1967 by Virgil Hancock

There oughta be a law!

You saw in our July issue twelve ancient and foreign "coins" made and sold as replicas to advertising agencies for use with direct-mail sales-letters.

You see how in this issue an assortment of very rare Early American "coins" made and sold as copies. No fraud was intended by the manufacturer nor by the advertising agencies.

However, some of these fakes eventually land in collections of trusting, inexperienced collectors. On the edges of these fakes the manufacturer has stamped the word COPY. But, even with a magnifying glass, it's almost impossible to decipher COPY. Also you easily, with a couple of licks with a file, could remove that word COPY from the edge.

A little smoothing, a little toning, and you'd have a specimen which would fool even some coin-dealers. That's not just theory! One not-very-knowledgeable East Coast dealer offered (in good faith, I do believe) one such fake to a Houston collector for $35.00. Only my intervention saved the Houstonian's thirty-five bucks.

The solution is a simply-worded federal law, requiring that any copy, replica, imitation, or reproduction offered for sale in any metal, of any coin which at any time has been legal tender in any part of the world, shall have incused to a depth of at least 1 mm into the field of one of its surfaces the word COPY in letters of sans-serif style measuring not less than 2.75 mm in vertical dimension.

Such a law CAN be guided successfully through our Congress in this administration. Such a realizable solution I hereby toss into the lap of ANA as a project which, when completed, similarly could be enacted into law in most other countries.

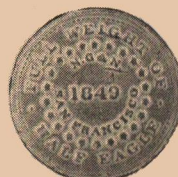

Yep, there oughta be a law!

Currency or Waste Paper

by C. S. Yowell, ANA 18131

This is the story of four million dollars in currency that missed becoming a medium of exchange by a matter of hours and instead became just so much waste paper. On March 2, 1933, California's governor ordered a three-day bank closure and on March 9 came President Roosevelt's national bank holiday.

The San Diego Clearing House Association took steps to meet the crisis and ordered the printing of $4,000,000 in scrip, consisting of $1, $5, $10 and $20 bills from the Western Litho Co.

In an article on the First National Bank of San Diego, Mary Harrington Hall, quoting Anderson Borthwick, said, "We were sorting it (the scrip) in our bank for all the banks at 2 a.m. when Belcher (F. J. Belcher) arrived at the bank and said 'you'll never need to use it.' He was right. We opened the next day . . ."

On January 3, 1966, San Diego's First National Bank opened for business in its new location, the city's tallest skyscraper, but the $4,000,000 in scrip was still stored in the vaults at the old location.

At this point, Scott J. Clem, long-time employee of the bank, was placed in charge of disposing of the scrip. Says Clem, "It took a crew of men a total of 17 hours to run the bills through a shredder and then burn them."

Clem is well known in local numismatic circles and it is due to his foresight that a small number of the bills were saved from destruction as reminders of a near bank panic 33 years ago.

Spirit of St. Louis Medal

This bronze 2-1/2-inch medal, presented to President Johnson, the Smithsonian Institution, and world aeronautical officials shows Charles Lindbergh's famous monoplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, which carried him solo across the Atlantic in 1927 to win a $25,000 prize. The obverse shows the buildings of Paris beneath a cloud with a prominent view of the Eiffel Tower. The reverse shows three modern day products of the Ryan Aeronautical Company, builders of Lindbergh's plane, graphically illustrating 40 years of aerospace progress by the aircraft industry. Designed by Joseph di Lorenze and struck by Medallic Art Company, it is not, at the present time, available to collectors.

To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y. 10001. ### Denmark

On June 10, 1967, her royal highness, Crown Princess Margrethe, heir to the Danish throne, was married to Prince Henrik. To mark the occasion a commemorative 10 kroner has been issued. It is the first crown of 10 kroner, in silver, struck for Denmark and is slightly smaller than the 2 rigsdaler of 1864-72. The last 10 kroner coin struck was in gold in 1917.

Ghana

This is the second issue of decimal coins for Ghana, and the third issue for the country since independence. Originally, Ghana early in 1958, released an independence coin issue consisting of seven common denominations from ½ penny to 10 shillings. The base unit of this currency was the pound which was on par with the British one.

In 1965, the base unit of a new currency introduced that year was the cedi consisting of 100 pesewas. At the time these new coins were released, their basic design remained the same, an obverse portrait of Kwame Nkrumah, but carried the new denominations: 5, 10, 25 and 50 pesewas on the reverse.

Now, Nkrumah has been deposed, and designs of the new coins are more symbolic. The design of the "talking drums" appearing on the ½ and 1 pesewa coins, has for centuries been the local native telegraph and the speediest way to relay news into the interior. This communication system, in a land where few roads or even paths existed, was highly developed and efficient long before the appearance of the white man in the interior.

1 pesewa, 1967. Bronze. Similar to above except for size and value. Plain edge. 26mm.

2½ pesewas, 1967. Copper-nickel. Obverse: arms of Ghana in shield form dividing date; value written out, above and below. Reverse: cocoapods in center within circle; legend around, GHANA at top, FREEDOM AND JUSTICE at bottom. Scalloped planchet. 20mm.

5 pesewas, 1967. Copper-nickel. Similar to above except for size and value. Round planchet, reeded edge. 19½mm.

10 pesewas, 1967. Copper-nickel. Similar to above except for size and value. Round planchet, reeded edge. 23½mm.

20 pesewas, 1967. Copper-nickel. Similar to above except for size and value. Round planchet, reeded edge. 28½mm.

All the above coins were struck at the Royal Mint in London.

Israel

On the occasion of Israel's 19th anniversary, the Bank of Israel issued this crown sized independence coin. It has a face value of five pounds and, as its eight predecessors, is legal tender. This year's commemorative also commemorates the 10th anniversary of the opening of the port of Eilat on the Gulf of Aqaba. Full details on this issue may be found on page 732 of the June issue of The Numismatist.

Tonga

First came stamps, coins, then coin-stamps, coins again, and then coin-stamps, too. Tonga is known to specialize in the collector's dollar. To mark the coronation of His Majesty, King Taufa'ahau Tupou IV on July 4, 1967, the Treasury of Tonga will place into circulation seven commemorative coins: four in cupro-nickel: 20 and 50 seniti, 1 and 2 pa'anga; three in palladium, ¼, ½, and 1 hau. The palladium coins are reported to be the first struck in this metal in the 2600 year history of numismatics.

AUGUST, 1967

To match the new coins, being offered to collectors in sets, will be sets of 14 coin-stamps reproducing the coins in actual size. This issue will be similar to the familiar Tonga gold coin-stamp issues of a few years ago.

50 seniti, 1967. Cupro-nickel. Similar to above except for size and value. 34.5mm 280 grains.

1 pa'anga, 1967. Cupro-nickel. Similar to above except for size and value. 39mm 436.36 grains.

2 pa'anga, 1967. Cupro-nickel. Similar to above except for size and value.

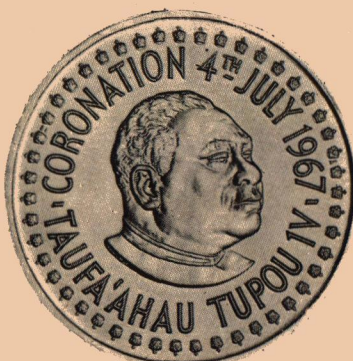

lar to above except for size and value. 45mm 650 grains.

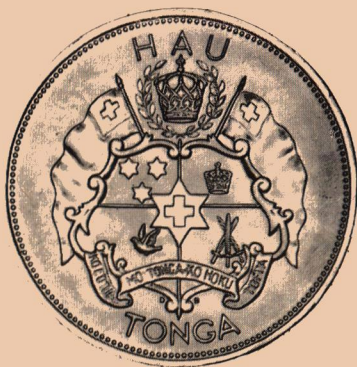

1/4 hau, 1967. Palladium. Similar to above except for size and value. 25mm 250 grains. Inscription around edge, HISTORICALLY THE FIRST PALLADIUM COINAGE.

1/2 hau, 1967. Palladium. Similar to above except for size and value. 34.5mm 500 grains. Edge inscription as above.

1 hau, 1967. Palladium. Similar to above except for size and value. 47.5mm 1000 grains. Edge inscription as above. The hau, signifying "Sovereign" in Tongan, weighing exactly 1000 imperial grains is equal in value to 100 pa'anga, making it the largest, heaviest, intrinsically most valuable (at time of issuance) piece of actual money produced in over 175 years.

LATE WORLD COIN NEWS

ISRAEL

No Time Lost

Israel's victory over the combined Arba forces of Egypt, Syria and Jordan will soon be noted by the issuance of a special commemorative silver crown. The denomination has not yet been decided upon, but according to Israel officials, it will not be for less than IL 5.

The coin will not be alone, plans have also been announced by the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corp. to issue a special state medal in honor of the ancient city of Jerusalem. This medal, which will be of special religious significance, will depict the ancient Wailing Wall, Jewry's most revered shrine. The wall is all that remains of King Solomon's Temple, which was destroyed in 587 B.C. The medal will be inscribed with this quotation from the Song of Songs, 2:9:—"Behold, He standeth behind our Wall." The medal will be struck in gold, silver and bronze and will bear the date, June 6, 1967, the date on which Old Jerusalem was captured by Israel Defense Forces and on which the chief Rabbi sounded the "shofar" (ram's horn) at the wailing wall.

A War Cause

When Israel distributed her annual silver commemorative coin on the occasion of the state's 19th anniversary on May 15, the fact that the coin also honored the 10th anniversary of the opening of the port of Eilat was barely noticed.

Within a week of the coin's issuance, the eyes of the world were focused on that little known, but vitally important, seaport on the Gulf of Aqaba and Israel's birthday coin took on a significance no one could have predicted.

As has been the custom since it was first created in 1958, the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation, distributors of Israel's official coins and state medals, issued a pamphlet tracing the history and highlighting the significance of the subject of the coin. This four-page illustrated leaflet points out that it was from Eilat that King Solomon's merchant ships sailed thousands of years ago. It then describes how the port fell into disuse.

Information on the Eilat coin and copies of the leaflet are available without cost from the Office of Israel's Assist-

MEXICO

Viva Senorita Adams

Accepting an official invitation from the Mexican government, Miss Eva Adams, recently visited the Mexico Mint, Banco de Mexico and other banking institutions on her first visit south of the border since becoming director of the United States Mint.

Her first official visit was on June 12 to visit the Banco de Mexico Money Museum where she was received by Sr. Sobrino and Sra. Pulido, curator and assistant. The exhibits were explained by Miguel Munoz in English so as to eliminate translation. Before leaving she was presented with an unusual memento of cacao bean and a brilliant uncirculated 1967 one centavo representing the oldest and newest coins of Mexico.

Sr. Munoz also acted as interpreter for Miss Adams visit to the Mexican Mint where she conferred on Mexican coinage, past and present, and discussed their future including plans for their new mint under construction.

Highlight of her tour through the Mexican Mint was performed in the coining department where experimental dies for the forthcoming 25 peso 1968 Olympic commemorative silver coin had been installed in one of the coining presses. Four specimens were struck for Miss Adams and the group and were immediately returned to the melting pot afterwards.

In an exchange of neighborly goodwill and medals the U. S. mint director was presented with a newly struck medal commemorating the centennial of the surrender of Maximilian to General Escobedo in 1867. In return, Ing. Carlos Martinez, director of the Casa de Moneda, received a presidential medal struck at the Philadelphia Mint.

Something New

An initial par value for the Singapore dollar, at $1 equals 32¢ U.S. has been established by agreement between the government of Singapore and the International Monetary Fund.

Following its separation from Malaysia, Singapore decided to establish its own currency board to issue currency beginning in mid-June. The Singapore dollar will replace, at par, the

CANADA

Not Every Cloud Has A Silver Lining

Numismatic attention has once again focused on our neighbors to the north. The Canadian government announcement that it would switch coinage metals in midyear caught many collectors by surprise. To help conserve their dwindling supplies of silver Canadian officials have announced that the mint will switch from nickel to pure nickel for the striking of dimes and quarters. At the same time it was announced that the exportation of silver was being banned.

The mint announced that the change-over should not affect the sale of coin sets to collectors nor the sale of the centennial medallions in silver. The latter is a substitute for the $20 gold pieces that are not available to American collectors.

Original plans called for Canada to switch to pure nickel for most of its coinage in 1968, but the change-over was adopted earlier because of the United States' announcement recently that it would stop sales of silver to all but "legitimate" industrial users and prohibit the melting or exportation of coins.

UNITED STATES

A New Wolfe in Office

Thomas W. Wolfe has been named acting director of the Office of Domestic Gold and Silver Operations, Office of the Secretary of the Treasury. The office has been headed by Dr. Leland Howard, who recently retired.

The office, under direction of the Under Secretary for Monetary Affairs, administers the Treasury Department's regulations on gold and issues licenses and other authorizations for its use. It also assists in determining and implementing policies and procedures relating to silver.

Wolfe joined the Treasury Department 18 years ago as Debt Analysis Staff, director of the Executive Secretariat, deputy assistant to the Secretary, and, just prior to being named to his new post, as special assistant Secretary Robert A. Wallace.

He was born in Boston, Massachusetts, May 5, 1919. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Columbia College in 1948 and a Master of Arts in economics from Columbia University in 1949.

William T. Louth, president, Medallion Art Company, presents to Jorge Font Saldana, secretario de hacienda (secretary of the treasury), a 12-inch medallion, the seal of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The seal shows the lamb, symbol of Saint John the Baptist for whom Columbus named the island. The inscription "Joannes Est Nomen Eius" means "John is his name." The crowned letters F and I, standing for Ferdinand II and Isabella, are shown with their personal symbols (an eye and arrows below a crown). The eight symbols around the edge, four symbols repeated twice for the two sovereigns, are the lion and castle (their property), their coats of arms on the flag, and the cross of the crusaders.

The Hall Lumber Company was in active business around 1910 operating in the Huntsville area. Hall operated a very large sawmill in conjunction with a general merchandise store. The tokens were received for daily pay or in change in the general company store. Another use was as barter for eggs, butter and other produce, receiving tokens for change or pay. The company issued tokens in brass in denominations of 5, 10, 25, 50 and 1.00. They circulated freely in the Huntsville area during the first and second decades of the twentieth century. A successor to Hall was City Lumber Company of Huntsville and they are still in business.

We are indebted to Dean Evans, Lovelady, Texas, for the historical data.

Looking at the token one would never know it was a Texas, Lovelady, token. The writer has never been able to obtain any information on the tokens Engle issued. Dean Evans, Lovelady, Texas, sent this token, he uncovered it in 1952.

Mitchell Satterwhite, in 1912, established a general merchandise store in Lovelady. The frame building which housed the store is still in use. Lovelady, being a lumber center, had many sawmills. Lang Smith operated a rather large one and as was the custom in those days, Smith paid his employees in scrip which was negotiable only at M. Satterwhite's store. Change was exchange for scrip was made in tokens in denominations of 1, 5, 10, 25, 50, 1.00 and 5.00. These were all made by Engle.

The tokens were also given in exchange for eggs, butter, etc., which customers sold or traded to the store. Consequently, Satterwhite received and profited doubly on the Lang Smith mill payroll. Naturally, Smith and Satterwhite must have had a lot in common for such an agreement. Evans could not locate any of the scrip used by Smith or the other denomination tokens. Authentication of this operation was easily obtained in Lovelady as a great number of people knew the Satterwhite-Smith operation. Likewise, Satterwhite's nephew still lives in Lovelady.

ELDORADO, (Nelson), NEVADA

Reverse: in field 25¢, large solid numerals centered. The reverse is inverted.

Metal: aluminum. Size: 15 (23.8 mm). Border: 2. Edge: 1.

Nev.-140.197-SC-21-A-15-25¢. B2, El. R8.

If this token had not been dug up in 1965 near a mine site in Nelson, Nevada, this article may never have been written. Through the courtesy of one of my California correspondents, we traced the history of Techatticup (pronounced Chaticup) the last two syllables being equally accented.

The information was obtained from the Writers' Program Nevada - A Guide to the Silver State, sponsored by Dr. Jeanne Elizabeth Weir, Nevada State Historical Society, Inc. This book is similar in form to the Blue Book Automobile Guide. On tour 5, page 235, the book states: "at 6 miles is the junction with a dirt road. Left on this road to Eldorado, 10 mi. sometimes called Nelson."

The pool room, which no longer exists, must have been located near the Techatticup Mine. The tokens were probably issued between 1890 and 1910 and probably other denominations existed. They were no doubt used as bar checks or other medium of exchange.

The history of the mine is most interesting and it must be considered a record of our tokens. Valuable mineral deposits were first discovered in this section of Eldorado Canyon by the Spaniards in 1775. Approximately one hundred years later a party from Mexico appeared at the mine site with the intent to develop it. The party of Mexicans had in their possession a map which they claimed had been drawn by the original discoverers of the mine.

The map designated exactly the Techatticup Mine. To their surprise they found it being worked by the Eldorado Mining Company, the district having been rediscovered in 1857. Techatticup was the richest producer in the district. Up to 1940 the district itself had produced between 2 and 5 million dollars in gold, silver, copper and lead.

The Techatticup and Eldorado are no longer. We did discover that it was in operation in May 1921 for we have a photostatic copy of a letter from a Chas. L. Denison, Wall Street, NYC to M. A. Newman, superintendent of the mine, enclosing a $1,000 check to cover the payroll. When one considers the wage scale of 1921, the $1,000 payroll must have been quite large.

The pioneering spirit is not dead in the Eldorado area. Homesteading exists. The summers are hot, the winters are cold, with snow! The person who found the pool token and obtained the letter is homesteading there right now.

Eldorado is shown on present day maps as Nelson, in Clark County, Nev. Its official post office is Nelson via Searchlight, Nevada 89046. Searchlight is now a small community, although at one time it was a boomtown. Population 192, it is 37 miles south of Nelson. Searchlight had its heyday in 1906. Thus from a pool room token we uncover another bit of the history of the "old West."

National Coin Week 1967

National Coin Week 1967 can truly be called one of the most successful ever recorded. This year's co-chairmen, Rick and Virginia Bronson, had a very busy and exciting two weeks in late May, making frequent visits to the post office to gather in the reports which were judged by a truly outstanding group of six numismatists on May 27.

Then followed the pleasant task of notifying the winners, and a sorrowful one of consoling the losers. Thousands of certificates of award were typed and mailed to those staunch numismatists who contributed to this great effort, and members of the non-collecting public who were of material assistance to them. Winners awards will be presented at the Miami convention on August 11.

Listed below by class of report is the roster of those who contributed their time and efforts to the success of National Coin Week, 1967:

Class A - 9 reports: Liberty Coin Club of Corpus Christi, Struthers Numismatic Club, Saginaw Valley Coin Club, Chicago Coin Club, Rochester Numismatic Assn., Old Fort Coin Club,

CENTENARY OF ARTURO TOSCANINI NOTED

Arturo Toscanini was without doubt the greatest musical interpreter of all time and the greatest conductor of the first half of the 20th century. He conducted famous orchestras all over the world: La Scala in Milan, 1898; New York Metropolitan Opera, 1907; and the New York Philharmonic, 1929-36; to name a few. Paul Vincze, noted sculptor medallist of London, has produced a limited edition to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Toscanini who died in New York in 1957 at the age of 91. One thousand fine silver copies were struck in 2 1/4" diameter and may be purchased from leading dealers in London at a cost of $28. One hundred gold and fifty platinum pieces were also made.

Noncompetitive individuals - 8 reports: Fred Frankfield, Helen Rhodes, C. Z. Mihalyi, Edwin Swafford, R. E. Dascombe, Charles Warren, William Brown and A. G. Phelps.

Summary comments: A total of 92 reports were received. It was especially gratifying that so many noncompetitive reports were received this year from clubs and individuals who wanted to add to the impressive record that was compiled. The governors of 32 states issued a proclamation or similar document for National Coin Week.

In support of National Coin Week, Sen. John McClellan and Rep. E. C. Gathings of Arkansas introduced a Joint Resolution for the President to proclaim NCW each year. NCW participants responded by writing 856 letters to their senators and representatives, and in return received 279 replies. This spontaneous request on the part of our membership resulted in the resolution being passed out of committee and onto the floor with a favorable recommendation.

Numismatic exhibits were one of the most important activities for NCW. This year 884 numismatists placed their displays in over 992 locations to further educate the public about our interesting and educational hobby.

There were a total of 908 articles published totaling 9,900 column inches, and no less than 365 pictures graced the pages of the press. Our participating numismatists were enthusiastically voluble about the hobby and gave a total of 545 talks totaling over 216 hours to 24,647 persons. It is interesting to note that 329 of these talks were made to non-collectors, many of them young people in classrooms, scout groups, and similar activities. In the field of radio and TV, 1,674 radio and 225 TV programs were put before the public for a total of over 30 hours of radio and 10 hours of TV program time. Announcements of the radio and TV shows were carried in numerous program guides.

Over 588 individual posters were prepared and shown for Coin Week, many of them by junior members. In addition, many handouts, club bulletins, notices, numismatic literature and numismatic items were distributed.

Later, when you review committee reports showing the number of new ANA members recruited in 1967, please recall that over 110 of these were a direct result of Coin Week activities. In addition, workers were successful in obtaining 691 members for their own clubs and regional organizations. The theme "Numismatics, Portrait of History" was interpreted in almost as many ways as there were entries.

All this is truly amazing when it is considered that it was accomplished within a four-month period from January 1 through Coin Week.

Hats are off to those knowledgeable and brave men and women who served as this year's judges. The six judges were: Jerry Hillebrand, Vivian Cooper, Ralph Cleaver, Saucie Maynard, Ray Janda and John Maxim. They were split into two panels of three each, and each panel was given several classes to judge. When this task was concluded, the panels switched classes to check each other's work and this is when the fun began!

This has been a most rewarding year for us. We have met many friends, both personally and through the mail, and look forward to meeting many more at the Miami convention. When you attend the national convention, please take the time to visit the National Coin Week exhibit and the Forum. We would enjoy talking with you and exchanging ideas not only on National Coin Week but on all aspects of our organization.

See you in Florida.

Sports Medal Sports Man-O-War

The second medal in the Cavalcade of Sports series is now being distributed to the 1,006 members of the Twentieth Century Sports Association, a group sponsored by Paramount International Coin Corp., Dayton, Ohio. The medals are the size of a silver dollar and struck in fine silver. This issue features Man-O-War, probably the greatest thoroughbred ever to enter competition. Campaigning only as a two and three year old, he established five American track records and was voted the number one thoroughbred of the half century by the Associated Press in 1950.

Book Reviews

Down the Trend Trail

A GUIDE BOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS
by R. S. Yeoman. 21st edition. 256 pages. Illustrated. Hardcover, Whitman Publishing Company. $2.00.

This annual volume, known as the "Red Book," is regarded as the bible of the numismatic field. The 21st revised edition features the usual detailed listings and valuations of every American coin type and major variety. Thousands of revaluations are included, reflecting the numerous price changes in U. S. coins over the past year.

A greater number of price changes are reflected than in any previous edition, and market trends indicate an adjustment of prices in both directions. With competition for coins keener than ever, the true scarcity of certain issues is brought into sharper focus; other coins, modern issues in particular, are relatively common, and a lessening of interest by speculators has caused a sharp downward fluctuation in these values.

Modern proof sets are drastically down in value. Type coins, however, continue to increase in price. The most common coins in each series (the basic type coins) in uncirculated condition continue to reach new highs.

Almost every value in the commemorative series is down. Half cents are generally down in lower grades and occasionally up in the higher grades of condition. For trade dollars, values are slightly up in every date and mint. Early date gold coins are up in most cases.

Values in the 256-page volume are established by a panel of more than forty-five dealer and numismatic contributors who rank as the nation's outstanding authorities in the coin collecting field. Editor of the Red Book is R. S. Yeoman, one of the country's top numismatic authorities and general manager of Whitman's Hobby Supply Division.—PR.

All Aboard!

CATALOGUE OF WORLD TRANSPORTATION
TOKENS AND PASSES EXCEPT NORTH AMERICA
by Kenneth E. Smith. 318 pages. Illustrated. Hardcover. Published by author. $5.00.

As its title indicates, this book is a listing of transportation tokens and passes with the exception of those of the United States and Canada. It does include those of Mexico and Central America, and gives the selling price of each item. According to the author practically all of the listings have been published in The Fare Box, the monthly publication of the American Vecturist Association. The book is a companion to Atwood's Catalogue of United States and Canadian Transportation Tokens issued by the AVA.

The entire book is printed directly from typed pages, rather than from set type, and contains illustrations of about 450 of the items described. In most cases only one side is shown in the pictures. By a rather involved coding, the author indicates the metal, size and shape of each item and, in addition, the wording on it and whether it is obsolete or currently in use. Listings are by country and include tokens and passes used on railroads, streetcars, busses, ships, bridges, gates and (even) amusement park rides. About a dozen pages are devoted to lists of English equivalents of foreign language words found on tokens and passes, and are followed by an index showing the page on which the many inscriptions are to be found in the main listing.

The book is the result of a tremendous amount of detailed work by author Smith who has collected transportation tokens for nearly a quarter of a century and whose collection contains practically all of the items listed. One not familiar with the subject finds the material a bit difficult to follow, due in part to the inflexibility of the typed copy and the condensation of data by coding. Yet this was necessary in producing a book containing so much information and that could be sold at a modest price. The book is available at $5.00 postpaid from author Kenneth E. Smith, 328 Avenue F., Redondo Beach, Calif. 90277. — Glenn S.

The Specialist and the Student

AN ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF U. S. COMMEMORATIVE COINAGE by Don Taxay. 264 pages. Illustrated. Hardcover. Arco Publishing Co. $6.50.

Those who are familiar with the numismatic writings of Don Taxay need not be told that this is an exhaustive work. However, as the title indicates, it is limited to the history of our commemorative coins; it does not include statistical information or prices. Much of the factual information came from the files of the federal Commission of Fine Arts and the Treasury Department, but Taxay consulted many of the coins' designers and other sources of information, including contemporary issues of The Numismatist.

Much of the heretofore unpublished behind-the-scenes history of the subject coins is in the form of official and other correspondence and more than 80 pages of plates. Early design sketches, models and source material for the coins are shown in picture form. For example, have you ever seen Brownell's painting of Connecticut's celebrated "Charter Oak" which was made while the tree still stood?

This book is for the collector who specializes in and studies commemorative coins, and will lead to a greater appreciation of these medallic artistic pieces. Many will be surprised to learn of the petty bickering which took place relative to the design and production of a number of the coins, and of the frustrations suffered frequently by the artist designers. Produced by Arco Publishing Co., 219 Park Avenue South, New York City 10003, and available at most coin and book stores at $6.50. — Glenn S.

PRE-CONFEDERATION CURRENCY IN CANADA. 8 pages. Illustrated. Paper cover. Bank of Canada. Free.

The annual report of the Bank of Canada for the year 1966 contained an 8 page colored section dealing with the Pre-Confederation Currency in Canada. The booklet is not for sale and bulk request cannot be honored. The booklet is available in both English and French.

The color work is outstanding, both the bills and tokens illustrated are actual size and in proper color. They cover the period from the card money of New France issued in 1937 through British Canada and including token issues of Upper and Lower Canada. Also shown, in color, are the foreign issues that added to the monetary confusion that plagued Canadians before Confederation.

NUMISMATIC ISSUES OF THE FRANKLIN MINT 1965-1966. 56 pages. Illustrated. Paper-cover. General Numismatics Corp. $1.00.

Shortly after the Franklin Mint started its stamping operations in January 1965, collectors of medals and tokens found that they could build extremely interesting collections of specimens produced by the unique mint.

Most of those who have started to collect Franklin Mint issues have concentrated on one or more specialties — such as special private issues, commemorative society issues gaming tokens, etc.

The collecting of Franklin Mint pieces has now been given a big boost by the publication of a catalogue covering all of the issues made at the Franklin Mint in 1965 and 1966.

In addition to clear illustrations of the obverses and reverses of 174 different pieces, the catalogue details complete mintage figures as of March 31, 1967, for each issue, to the extent of indicating the exact mintage in each different metal and condition. A market price supplement is promised by the publishers within the next few months. The catalogue is available through any coin dealer at $1 per copy. —PR.

Obituaries

Dr. Kenneth M. Gaver

LM 536

Dr. Kenneth M. Gaver, one of Canada's leading numismatists, died at the age of 59 in Montreal on May 23.

Dr. Gaver, who headed the firm, Collectors Research, founded in 1959, was a retired chemist.

In December, 1947, Dr. Gaver was admitted to membership in the American Numismatic Association while residing in Columbus, Ohio. He taught at Ohio State University and had a doctorate in bio-chemistry. In 1950 and 1951 he was president of the Columbus Numismatic Society.

Collectors Research is a family firm and will continue to operate a spokesman for the family said in Montreal. The firm started with a format catering to the Boy Scouts and younger collectors, but before the first year's business was complete the planned

Boy Scout coverage had extended to encompass collectors ranging in age from nine to ninety and private collectors as well as school groups, museums and other groups both private and public.

Buford A. Ellis

LM 433

Buford Ellis, well-known in Midwest coin collecting circles, died of an apparent heart attack while vacationing at a Lake of the Ozarks resort on June 14. The forty-nine year old collector had served as president and secretary of the Heart of America Nu-numismatic Association (HANA).

Ellis was director of the audio-visual programs in several city schools in Kansas City, he was also a teacher and a coin dealer. Joining the ANA in 1955, he was elected a life member on March 1, 1962. He is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter.

William N. Worth

ANA 7557

Genial William N. Worth, 69, of Portland, Oregon, widely known in the field of numismatics, died on Sunday, June 25. "Bill," as he was known to all his coin collecting friends, had seemed well on the road to recovery from a heart attack a few weeks earlier.

Bill Worth's numismatic specialty was gold coins of the world. These he exhibited expertly, but his number one interest in numismatics had to do with its people and organizations. A retired employee since 1960 of the Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company, he was active in numismatics at local, regional and national levels for many years. Joining the ANA 29 years ago, he was chairman of its national convention in 1959 in Portland. For his outstanding efforts he was given the numismatic good fellowship award. In 1961 he received the ANA Award of Merit. Worth attended several ANA conventions and served on a number of committees, including resolutions and exhibit judging.

In Portland he was a past president and past treasurer of the Oregon Numismatic Society. A few years ago ONS conferred on him an honorary life membership, the second ever given. The Pacific Northwest Numismatic Association also had the services of Bill Worth as its president and for several years as treasurer. He was chairman of PNNA conventions in Portland in 1955 and 1957, and served on key committees at conventions in several Pacific Northwest cities.

William Norton Worth was born

August 7, 1897, in Butte, Montana. A graduate of the University of Montana, he was with Pacific Northwest Bell in Seattle 13 years before moving to the company's accounting offices in Oregon. He was a veteran of World War I, a member of the Telephone Pioneers, Masonic Doric Lodge, A.-F.&A.M. of Seattle, and Phi Delta Theta fraternity.—DLM.

George B. Cucore

ANA 19364

George B. Cucore, Lansdowne, Pa., died May 9, at the age of 68 after a long illness. He is survived by his wife, daughter and two sons.

He was an active member and supporter of the numismatic hobby in general and the Philadelphia Coin Club in particular. He had no. 102 in the Philadelphia club and no. 146 in MANA. He served as treasurer of the Philadelphia Coin Club and on various committees including public relations, banquet and entertainment committees for the 1957 ANA Philadelphia convention.

Cucore once secured some beams from the first U. S. Mint building on 7th Street in Philadelphia and made gavels and sounding boards for several numismatic organizations including the ANA, the latter was presented at the Boston convention in 1960.

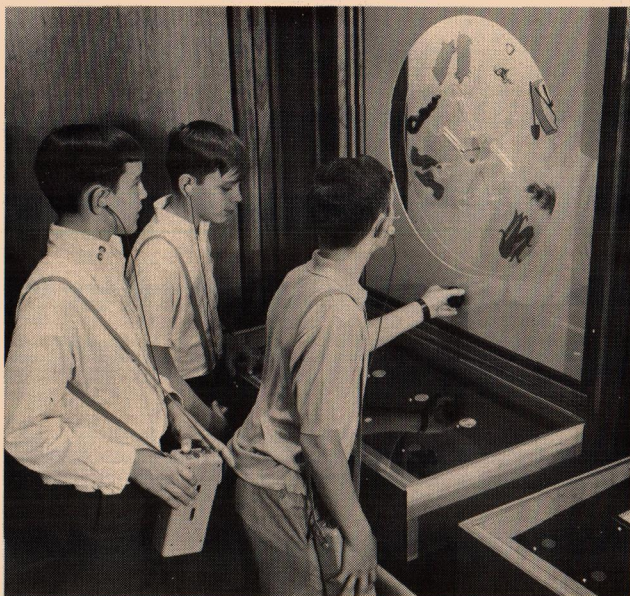

He had retired as president of George B. Cucore & Sons of Morton, Pa., manufacturers of wooden patterns for steel castings. In addition to being a coin and stamp collector, he also taught and played the violin with the Swarthmore Symphony Orchestra. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Men of Malvern, Lansdowne Lions Club and the Media Retired Businessmen's Association.—AS.

Notes & Queries

Seeing Is Believing Money Does Talk!

"Money Talks," an exhibition of American coins and bank notes from the extensive collection of the Citizens & Southern National Bank, opened recently at the new C & S Gallery. It will remain on view for approximately six months.

The exhibition represents a significant departure from coin displays of the past. Conceived and designed as a total experience, it is the first money show to encourage audience participation through coordinated visual and aural devices.

The money pieces have been organized chronologically in seven major groups, each era's coins mounted in a horizontal display drawer. Above them are large picture panels some of which can be animated by viewers and which illustrate in graphic terms striking features of the seven historical periods.

In addition, taped commentary on the development of U. S. money and banking can be heard by visitors through individual Acoustiguide units. Music, sound effects, and dramatic dialogue have been incorporated with the commentary to highlight significant moments.

The Acoustiguide units, which C & S will make available free of charge to gallery visitors, are making their first appearance in Atlanta.

Visitors will, for example, hear the beat of Indian tom-toms as they study wampum used by the Indians to trade with early American settlers; then they will try their hand at barter by operating one of the picture panels. Later, while viewing Federal Reserve notes, they will hear a brief description of the Federal Reserve System, which is graphically depicted by flashing red lights on the wall map above.

The unique concept of the exhibition was developed by C & S in cooperation with Nina Kaiden of Ruder & Finn, Inc., in New York. A special consultant to industry on art and exhibitions, Mrs. Kaiden worked closely with numismatic experts James Risk of New York and Gary Leff of Atlanta, and exhibition designer, Jerry Lieberman.

Located in the bank's downtown building at Marietta and Broad Streets, it is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. Admission is free. Special arrangements can be made for group tours.

ANA Is Not In Travel Business

The American Numismatic Association has recently offered to its members many new and improved services, but tours is not one of them. The ANA is neither participating in, planning, promoting or sponsoring any tours of any kind to any place.

This statement on the part of the ANA has been made necessary by the number of travel agencies offering tours purported to being sponsored or endorsed by the American Numismatic Association. Most of these tours have been scheduled to follow the 1967 ANA convention in Miami Beach in early August.

Officials of the ANA see nothing wrong with tours and advise members to schedule their vacations to their own wishes and desires, but officers which to emphasize that the prime purpose of the ANA is to encourage and promote the science of numismatics by the acquirement and study of coins, paper money, tokens and medals, not the promotion of tourism.

Hot News

Collectors in the Frederick, Maryland, area not receiving their May issue of The Numismatist can place the finger of blame on a postal fire. Although postal authorities have refused to comment, enough copies of the magazine were returned with scorched envelopes to realize the reason for non-delivery. Members in that area also complained of receiving copies completely stuck together. Printing officials note that extreme heat will cause the starch in the paper to flow and create this situation.

Collectors from that area who received damaged copies and would like to replace them may do so by returning the bad copy and a new copy will be mailed.

Back to School

Long Beach City College announces that a series of lectures on numismatics will be held under their sponsorship during the month of September and October with complete details to be released in the near future.

The instructor will be Maurice M. Gould of Van Nuys, California, who is well known as a lecturer and author in the field of numismatics. For a number of years he conducted classes at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in a numismatic program sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Education, as well as classes at the Boston Center for Adult Education.

These lectures will cover: Introduction to Numismatics, U. S. Coins and Paper Currency, Foreign Coins and Paper Money, and Tokens and Medallion Art.

This series will be the first of its kind to be held in California this year. Charles M. Johnson of Long Beach, member of the board of governors of the ANA, founder of the courses in 1966, will act in an advisory capacity.

Gould will conduct the entire series and each lecture will feature one hour of visual slide program, in addition to the lecture and question and answer period.

As California has the greatest concentration of coin collectors in the United States, it is expected that an unprecedented number of students will register for this course.

For further information, write to Richard L. Jones, Dept. Head-Forums, Long Beach City College, 1305 East Pacific Coast Hwy., Long Beach, California 90806.

New Society Formed

A new society devoted to the collecting of Civil War tokens has been founded with 180 collectors as charter members although the specialized field membership is growing.

The society plans to issue a quarterly journal which will contain editorial copy which has not been available to collectors of this series. Outstanding collectors have already contributed to this project, it has been reported.

Until the first election, the following have agreed to serve: Melvin Fuld, chairman; Chris Mackel, secretary; Earl Rogers, treasurer; Ken Trobaugh, advertising manager. A publisher is yet to be named.

To enable the publishing of the journal the dues for the current year has been set at $4. Interested persons may obtain further information by writing the secretary at 8025 S. Mulligan, Oak Lawn, Illinois 60453.

Help Wanted!

Verne R. Walrafen, LM 533, would like to correspond with numismatists that have spurious specimens of Mexican prerepublic (before 1910) and revolutionary (1910-17) 8R, 4R, $1 and 50¢ pieces. Object: compilation of as complete a listing of pieces in existence as possible and building a collection of such pieces to be used for study and educational display purposes.

Virgil Hancock will have Walrafen's present collection as part of a display on counterfeits at the ANA convention in Miami this month. His address is P. O. Box 1751, Topeka, Kansas 66601.

Help Wanted!

Efforts are being made by Lewis Ferguson of Algona, Iowa, and Phil Chinitz of Atlantic, Iowa to catalog all Iowa trade tokens.

They would appreciate any listings from fellow collectors. Those sending listings are to list town, store, type of metal, denomination, and size. They are also interested in different varieties.

Their addresses are Ferguson, 703 North Woodworth, Algona, and Chinitz, 9 East Twelfth, Atlantic 50022.

Medals-Decorations Exhibit At National Bank of Detroit

Money Museum director, Charles Hoskins, and Thomas Becker, assistant, give the Medals-Decorations display a final inspection before sending it to the bank's branch offices.

A traveling exhibit of medals and decorations of the world is drawing acclaim from many of National Bank of Detroit's customers. Austria's Order of the Golden Fleece, the Chinese Order of the Double Dragon, France's famed Croix de Guerre and Thailand's Order of the White Elephant are among the more than eighty high awards included in the attractive display. The six-panel exhibit is being rotated among National Bank of Detroit's ninety-three branch offices. The staff of the NBD Money Museum developed the exhibit from the Nate S. and Ruth B. Shapero Foundation collection. U. S. decorations are displayed in the Money Museum.

For the Junior

The ANA is here to stay, not because of today's collectors but because of today's juniors, the numismatists of tomorrow. Thanks to the work of Hazel Lindstrom, Charles K. Lyle, Clem Bailey and others the juniors program is most promising. Their hard work is bearing fruit, once it was difficult to obtain material for a juniors' column, today it comes a little easier.

Ray Janda, one of the six 1967 National Coin Week judges, remarked during the judging that the most difficult category to decide was that of the juniors. Many hours of diligent effort went into each entry. On the point system all entries were close but one had to be ruled ineligible. The young man would not officially become a member until after the competition closed. Realizing this he submitted his scrapbook in the noncompetitive class. His work should not go unrecognized for it was a big undertaking.

Young Charles Warren is a senior at Crispus Attucks High School in Indianapolis, Indiana and his promotion of National Coin Week included an exhibit of his collection at his school. Displayed were 400 to 500 foreign coins representing 100 foreign countries, Confederate and Mexican revolutionary currency, plus U. S. type sets.

The school distributed a special brochure to the student body explaining Charles' collection and allotting him seven tables to display his collection and promote the hobby. The exhibit lasted three days, April 25, 26 and 27 in the gym lobby.

Charles also prepared several hundred handbills inviting students and teachers to view his display. Attached to each handbill was an attributed foreign coin. The youngster noted that these were modern foreign coins and "the inexpensive kind."

Master Warren also addressed his English and his Social Studies classes with 15 minute talks on the hobby. We are sure that his parents and teachers were proud of young Charles Warren, but better still the ANA can be proud to enroll him as a new member. Welcome junior member 59000.

The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons eleven years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The Association was founded in 1891, and has about 27,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associates, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $11.00 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $6.00. Nonmember subscriptions, $7.50 per year or three years for $20.00. Single copy 75¢. For application blanks or other information, write to Executive Director, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.

With great pride, we announce the issuance of an outstanding artistic work of medallic art. No photograph or reproductive technique can capture the richness and simplicity of this beautiful medallion. The "Four Assassinated Presidents" medal is one of the finest artistic works offered by Presidential Art Medals. This striking historical masterpiece must be seen to be appreciated. It is unusual to find four full view delicately detailed portraits in sculptured high relief on a single large medal. The obverse portrays an exceptional likeness of Lincoln, Kennedy, Garfield and McKinley with their signatures incised below the portraits. The reverse depicts the flag of the United States and the Presidential flag with the following inscription in relief: "PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES IN DEVOTIONAL SERVICE TO THIS NATION." Dates of each President and the Presidential Seal is in raised relief.

The FOUR ASSASSINATED PRESIDENTS MEDAL is issued as follows:

1,000 pieces serially numbered from 1-1000 Silver (.999+) 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ " dia. ....	\$39.50 ea.
Unnumbered pieces Antique Bronze 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ " dia. ....	\$ 5.00 ea.
Descriptive pamphlet and metal desk stand with each medal

PLEASE NOTE: Due to an extremely limited issue of Silver medals, orders are accepted contingent to prior sale. Special plastic holders with gold lettering are available at $4.00 each.

RARE HAWAIIAN COINS AT DISCOUNT PRICES

Low mintage. Listed page 248 of the Red Book. Many melted, especially dollars of which over 400,000 were melted, according to the records at San Francisco. Many additional coins of each denomination were lost to the sea during a revolt by the people against the government in 1893. Few were left. In fact—during my visit to Hawaii I searched the Islands to locate Hawaiian coins and discovered to my amazement that few people living on the Islands even knew that these coins existed. Most inhabitants were amazed when I showed them coins struck by the U. S. Mint for circulation in Hawaii. They are not only no longer in circulation, but few Hawaiians realize that at one time they had their own coinage. Check your Red Book — Excellent investment potential per dollar invested.

WE ARE MOVING

UNCIRCULATED U. S. SILVER DOLLARS FROM COEN-MESSER CO. WHERE QUALITY COUNTS

Our previous ads offering our TOP QUALITY BU SILVER DOLLARS met with such stimulating success, that we offer them again. We have modestly raised the prices of the common dollars to keep in line with the price of the bags of common dollars which have risen in price from $1500.00 per bag to a current price of $2100.00.

Our SELECT BU COIN is generally better struck than the Average BU will contain a lesser degree of bag-marking and will always have full NATURAL LUSTER.

If you have not ordered from us before, why not join the ranks of our growing number of highly satisfied customers. In order to service everyone, we think that we maintain one of the largest stocks of truly "FROSTY" BRILLIANT UNCIRCULATED DOLLARS.

When in New York, stop in and browse around, our new location is within a short walking distance from STACK'S, and LESTER MERKIN.

Why Keep Coins in a Plastic Holder?

Obviously for the superb eye appeal they present, but more important to preserve your coins' value. A CAPITAL holder prevents fingerprints, scratches and will keep so called black "Carbon Spots" from destroying the coin. These spots may be formed by moisture from the mouth, a sneeze or just someone talking animatedly. The acidity present has its effects. May we suggest wiping the coins with a very soft chamois before placing them in a holder. A CAPITAL HOLDER OF COURSE!
